> Beggars and Weather. "What weather is best for our business? Why, winter weather," said the beggar. "Sure, winter makes people generous to the poor. In summer people have an idea that everybody can get along somehow. It's warm then. you know, and they think the poor won't suffer anyway. But the colder the weather the warmer it makes people's hearts, and the more they give then in some ways. The one drawback to my particular line of business in winter is that in cold weather everybody goes about in the streets with Stoves, Ranges, Oil Stoves. Gasogloves on and overcoat buttoned up, and men that would put down their names for a good sum on a subscription list indoors, where they could give line Stoves, Enamel Ware, Cooking it in comfort, are not so ready to drag off their gloves and drag open their gloves and go down in their jeans for a it in comfort, are not so ready to drag coats and go down in their jeans for a Utensils, and hardware of all kinds drawback, and it's a big one, I do better in winter than in summer. But if nickel out of doors. Even with this it wasn't for that in winter I'd get rich."-New York Sun.

Of these contests the most severe is undoubtedly the twelve mile race over the mountains which opens the great annual "Snow Derby" at Holmenkollen, about four miles from Christiania. In this race, which begins with a steep ascent of 400 to 500 feet, the skee lobner has to jump clefts and ravines, to hop over fallen tree trunks and overcome every kind of obstacle that man can devise: to rush down steep declivities and to make his devious way through mountain forests until he reaches the goal, triumphant, but utterly exhausted. Considering the arduous nature of these contests, some of the performances are remarkable. Thus the winner of an international speed competiner of an international speed competi-tion held at Stockholm covered the course of forty miles at an average speed of eight and one-half miles an
